

The Lincoln Chapter of the Nebraska Association for the Education of Young Children celebrated the 2023 Week of the Young Child by partnering with the Lincoln City Libraries. We designed and created bookmarks and informational flyers to be displayed in each of the eight library branches. We also intended to have book drawings to give away a children's book at each library branch, but the libraries didn't allow it. Since the books were already purchased, we donated them to the libraries for use in their children's programs.
